THE BANQUET.

July 1st will long be remembered by Hope College and the citizens of Holland, as the date of the celebration of the generosity of Eastern friends in adding the magnificent sum of one hundred thousand dollars to the endowment fund.

The event was celebrated by a banquet at the Hotel Macatawa.

The evening was a glorious one, cool and delightful, after the July day. The two hundred guests were carried from Holland to the Park on the steamer Music with Prof. Thomas' fine band accompanying the party.

Arriving at the resort the spacious dining room was soon filled by the guests. To say anything of the banquet which followed is unnecessary, more than that Mrs. M. A. Ryder, proprietress of the hotel, N. Whelan, its manager, Will Jackson and George Ryder, the popular and efficient clerks, the able corps of caterers and more than all Frank McCowan, in charge of dining room and the forty handsome waitresses, all did their best. Everything to eat and drink and the service were perfect. Mr. C. A. Dutton, in charge of the floral decorations, made each table a thing of beauty with roses, sweet peas and forest ferns.

At ten o'clock the tables were cleared and the programme of toasts followed: Space does not permit us to do justice to the eloquence, wit and songs which made the succeeding two hours a delight which will never be forgotten by those present. Every speaker was at his best, the audience enthusiastic and the result a glorious success.

We give a few extracts from the telegrams and letters of regret received, which voice the sentiments of those present in spirit but not in body.

Congressman William Alden Smith, telegraphed:

"My sincere congratulations to the officers of Hope College on this most auspicious occasion."

Rev. D. Broek:—

I sincerely rejoice with the citizens of Holland in the splendid success which our worthy President Kollen has achieved in behalf of Hope College in raising this additional endowment for our institution, the foundations of which were laid in the faith and prayers of the fathers."

Rev. W. H. Van Antwerp:—

"I send you best wishes for the college and the occasion."

Rev. H. G. Birchby:—

I heartily sympathize with Holland's citizens in their disposition to honor him through whose indefatigable diligence and wise generalship these "Eastern Friends" have been gained for Hope.

In him, Holland pluck, which he inherits, and Yankee wit, which somehow or other he has inherited from his environment, combine in a remarkable degree, and, of course, while we thank these "Eastern friends" for their munificent generosity, yet he deserves and should receive the credit of unearthing this hidden virtue to the astonished givers as well as the astonished receivers.

Therefore I voice the song current in all college gatherings and say, "Here's to our good old Prex."

Hon. George Birkhoff:—

"Wish I could be with you to celebrate the splendid achievement of my dear friend Dr. Kollen, in obtaining $100,000 for Hope College. You will have a delightful time, I am sure."

Prof. Edward Dimment:—

"I rejoice with Holland, her citizens and her college, on this happy event."

Henry D. Post:—

"Honor the President, who has successfully accomplished the labor of securing $100,000 additional endowment for our Hope College."

When men do great work, they are justly entitled to honor and praise, from the community for whose benefit the work has been done.

The additional endowment to Hope College so broadens and deepens its foundations that it is raised at once, from the possibility of continued existence, to the certainty of grand future growth and development.

Again all honor and praise to President Kollen for his energetic and successful labor, and to the noble friends of Hope College, who have so generously responded to his appeals to them for the endowment."

The program as carried out was as follows:

TO THE FARMERS.

Those who deliver their milk to the factory and to those who do not, and anyone who keeps a cow or cows.

There is generally some complaint of sour milk coming to the factory in almost every vicinity where there are creameries. There is no need of this and it can be overcome, for there are several reasons. We, butter makers, find cans not being cleaned good. Cans should be emptied as soon as they come home from the factory and cleaned in good shape, scalded with boiling water and then laid out doors in the air.

We sometimes find the paper on which the weights of the skim milk is, in the cans, of the previous day. Such a can has surely not been cleaned good, or these would not be found in the can the next day.

Pails and strainers must also be kept clean and sweet.

Farmers who deliver their milk to the factory must set their evening milk in the can and then set in cold water, water being fully as high as the milk in the can, and when stirred up a few times, leave the cover off and put on a piece of cloth for dust and dirt over night.

Some of our farmers can keep milk better two days, than others one day, simply by keeping their cans, pails and utensils clean and sweet.

I have found milk sour several times from different farmers, and found that they did not clean their cans well, so I cleaned the cans thoroughly with soap suds and the next morning the milk was nice and sweet.

Teamsters should lay a blanket over their cans when coming to the factory and on their return home, this is also a great help.

This is not for the benefit of one creamery, but for all, and every person who uses or handles milk, also milk-peddlers.

Yours,
CORNELIUS LOKKER,
Butter maker of the Holland Crystal Creamery.

Do not be in a hurry about getting over a railroad track when a train is approaching. A fast express covers an eighth of a mile in five seconds. You may live longer if you wait a minute for the train to pass.

So great is the pressure of idle workmen upon the city government of Chicago for employment, that Mayor Harrison has decided to divide the work now being given to 1,600 men among 6,000. He reasons that a little work for many is better than full employment for few.

"The patriot makes a better citizen than the pessimist," declares the president. And yet there was a time when even William McKinley himself preferred to be a pessimist rather than a patriot. "Why do you preach?" asked a skeptic of a minister. "For the glory of God and the good of souls," was the reply. "Did you ever see a soul?" "No." "Did you ever taste a soul?" "No." "Did you ever smell a soul?" "No." "Did you ever feel a soul?" "Yes, thank God," responded the minister. "Well," said the skeptic, "there are four out of the five senses against one that there is no soul." The skeptic was a physician, and inspiration seized the minister: "Did you ever see a pain, doctor?" "No." "Did you ever taste a pain?" "No." "Did you ever hear a pain?" "No." "Did you ever feel a pain?" "Yes," said the medical man. "Well," said the minister, "there are four senses against one to prove that there is no such a thing as pain; and yet, sir, you know that there is such a thing as pain, and I know that there is a soul."

PERFECTING PROTECTION.
Two Slight Changes Suggested in the Interest of Farmers and Laborers.
The senate is now engaged in remedying the small imperfections of the Dingley bill, which, as all good protectionists assert, is one of the best tariff bills ever drafted. It distributes its blessings to all—farmer, laborer and manufacturer. Without doubting the good intentions of the makers, we wish to suggest one or two minor details which might possibly help the bill to fulfill the expectations of its authors:

First.—Labin's export bounty scheme might enable the farmer to get a small slice of the benefits of protection. Of course the farmer doesn't expect—especially at first—to get as much of the benefits as the manufacturers have been getting for 30 years. A protection of about 20 per cent—that is 10 cents per bushel on wheat, 5 cents on corn, etc.—would satisfy him, while it takes four times as much to satisfy ordinary tariff infants.

This small export duty would not make good the farmer's loss because of import duties on manufactured products, saying nothing about past losses, but in course of time, after his industry had felt the stimulating effects of real protection "what protects," the farmer might muster up courage enough to follow the example of Oliver Twist—which example has grown into a custom with protected interests—and ask for "more." Possibly also he might form political trusts or combines to demand "more" and raise millions of dollars to send lobbyists to Washington to bribe congress. While protection is in order export duties are the farmer's only hope. With them he may hope not only to change his losses to profits, but also to regain that power and position which were once his, but which have long since passed into the hands of the manufacturers.

Second.—It is also fitting to recognize the laborer in the distribution of tariff profits. Like the farmer, he now puts his hand into his pocket to help swell the profits of protection, practically none of which comes his way. It is not an easy matter to equalize the benefits of protection so that the workman shall get his full share. A prohibitive duty on imported labor might in the course of time afford some protection by restricting the supply of labor, so that manufacturers could carry out their good intentions (expressed when asking for higher duties) and pay "American wages to American workmen."

At present the condition of workmen in the protected industries is pitiable in the extreme. The Philadelphia Ledger, a good Republican paper, told us about May 1 that in the protected iron and coal industries of Pennsylvania the wage rate has been reduced so low "that it is scarcely sufficient to provide the necessities of decent, sanitary living." It says "the lowest classes of alien cheap labor swarm in the iron and coal districts of the state," and the competition for work is so fierce "that they contend, not against the employers for the highest wages, but among each other for the lowest?" "As appears by the testimony presented to the legislative committee, * * * they herd in squalor, subjects of abject penury, and are beset by disease, dirt and hunger." The Ledger thinks our immigration laws are "defective and improvident" and suggests that "to properly protect American workmen congress should pass an immigration as well as a tariff bill." This is a good idea and should be acted upon at once. The only wonder is that some of the good manufacturers, in their anxiety to protect and raise the wages of their workmen, did not think of this plan before. Then, if they should have a law passed which should make it compulsory for them to give at least one-half of their protection and monopoly profits to their employees, protection would begin to be an all around blessing. The manufacturers might still be getting the lion's share, but they would not get all.

When these changes are made in the bill, it will undoubtedly be what the New York Tribune declared its prototype, the McKinley bill, to be—"the bravest and best tariff bill ever passed." Will they be made?—Byron W. Holt.

Pushing Along a Good Thing.
The Sugar Tariff Prize Puzzle.
A reward of $25 is offered by the New York World for any linguist who will translate the sugar schedule in the new tariff bill into English that can be understood. It is said that the sugar men understand it perfectly, and if they do what business is it of others? The Sugar trust is running the United States senate at present, and it is holding up all legislation until it gets what it wants. If the people of this country had a chance to vote on the election of United States senators, some of the old fossils in the senate would never be heard of again. —Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Trust's War on Food.
Senator Aldrich has always been a truly good friend of the sugar trust, and it is apparent that this trust is not growing cold. —Boston Herald.

ROMANCE VERSUS REALITY.
FREE HIDES
THESE SENATORS POSED FOR A GREAT HISTORICAL PICTURE—
BUT THEY DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS A ROENTGEN CAMERA.

New England is much concerned about free hides. Some of her biggest industries, especially that of boots and shoes, have been built up during our quarter of a century of free hides. She now sells boots and shoes in all parts of the world. Taxed hides would cripple this and other industries. Her leading senators pretend to represent her and to put up a fight for free hides. In reality they will, if necessary, sacrifice free hides to obtain high duties on sugar with plenty of margin for trust profits. Just why this is so should be a matter for senatorial investigation, if such investigation would only investigate. Fortunately for the Sugar trust, but unfortunately for the rest of us 70,000,000 people, the Sugar trust understands well the art of making friends where they will do the most good. It has able attorneys to advise it how to distribute its sweets to politicians and lawmakers and at the same time to steer clear of jails.

In this way and in this way only can we account for the attitude of not a few prominent tariff makers at Washington. The situation is interesting—decidedly so.

Prices of Linens Go Up.
When the tariff bill was about to be framed, the Republican leaders stated that they desired to be moderate and to avoid anything like excessive rates. Mr. Aldrich, when introducing the amended measure into the senate, claimed that his rates were generally lower than those of the house bill. The linen schedule, however, is a notable one of many exceptions. In it the senate rates are higher than those of the house and much higher than anything ever before known.

Under the McKinley bill of 1890 linens were assessed 35 per cent, with a few exceptions as high as 50 per cent ad valorem. Under the rates proposed by the senate a large proportion of the goods in everyday use will be assessed from 65 to 85 per cent and in some cases over 100 per cent. The following table shows some of the changes in the cost of medium and low grade linens:

	Price per yard.	New duty	Per cent.	Per cent.	New bill.
Damask tablecloth, 100	25c	85c	240
Crash for roller towels, 62 1/2	8	12 1/2	56
Colored canvas for dress linings, 100	8 1/2	10 1/2	23
Light blue linen, 100	10	12 1/2	25
Clothing linens, 100	10	12 1/2	25
Linen for butchers' aprons, 65	10 1/2	22 1/2	115

The domestic manufacturers in whose interests these changes are supposed to be made have stated that they do not deserve over 50 per cent duty on linen goods, and one of the principal manufacturers of linen and cotton handkerchiefs in America (of Acheson, Harden & Co., Passaic, N. J.) states that he does not desire any advance of duty on his goods.

The gross injustice of these duties can be appreciated when it is remembered that, owing to climatic conditions, good fiber flax cannot be grown or linen manufactured successfully in this country, and when it is further remembered that the kind of linen taxed is the kind that is used by the poorest classes, while a much lower duty is put on the finer grades.

"A License to Steal."
That must have been embarrassing information to the United States senate which Statistician Carroll D. Wright furnished that body last week concerning the labor cost of lumber in this country and in Canada. His figures showed that, while the average wages in Canadian sawmills is $1.41 and $1.71 per day here, the average labor cost of 1,000 feet of lumber is $1.28 in Canada and only 91 cents here. The decreased cost of production in this country is attributed to the superior machinery used. Of course the figures prove the free trade contention that the rate of wages paid does not indicate the cost of production—that low wages are very often more expensive to employers, and vice versa. But these hard facts furnished by an officer of the government will not dissuade the lumber barons from their purpose to get a tariff on Canadian lumber so that they can more effectually rob American consumers. Protectionists care nothing for facts. What they want is a license to steal. —National Single Taster.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE

The Statement of Some One in Holland
Quicker Than Some One in Florida!

Supposing you had backache, a weak or lame back, a worn-out, listless feeling that you wanted to get rid of, and you read of some one in Florida who had been cured, would you believe it? Not these days when so many claims are made by unscrupulous persons; we think not. But if some one right here in Holland, some one you can see, can inquire about, can satisfy you that what he says is true, "that would be different," wouldn't it? Well, now, that's the kind of proof we are going to give you about a remedy for backache and all complaints
of and arising from disordered kidneys.

Martin Van der Poel is a citizen of Holland. He resides at the corner of N. River and First Streets. He says:

"For a long time I have had what is commonly called 'bad back.' I do not know what caused it, the pain was right in the kidneys; it affected me by spells, sometimes I would be in bad shape for two or three days at a time, then again I have been laid up for a week or more. During spells like that, I would have to give up work.
It was during one of these bad attacks I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and as they were highly recommended for backache, I obtained a box at Doeburg's drug store, and their action was noticeable from the first. They have relieved me of the pain and I have not had it since, although this was some time ago. I would recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from backache, for my experience with them
has proven they will do the work."

Sold by all dealers—price 50 cents.

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Important Happenings in the State During the Past Few Days Reported by Telegraph—Matter Selected for the Benefit of Our Own People.

Lansing, Mich., June 28.—Edwin Freeman, a painter, who has resided here for the past twenty-five years, ardently celebrated the queen's jubilee, and he thinks he has especial cause for doing so. Many years ago his father was engaged as a florist to Queen Victoria, who took a most kindly interest in him and his family. Upon his death
she purchased a scholarship costing $500
for the youngest son, who was the Edwin Freeman of this city. The latter is now about 60 years old, and he says he will always have a warm place in his heart for his royal benefactress.

CLOSING WEEK AT ANN ARBOR.

Fifty-Third Commencement of the University of Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 30.—The fifty-third annual commencement week of the University of Michigan began Monday.
Fifty-three years ago Michigan graduated her first class, which numbered ten.
Today Michigan ranks next to Harvard university in point of numbers and considered herself below none in point of scholarship.

At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon the campus was given up for a few hours to the law seniors. This year the law department graduates but fifty. Last year the number was 338. The difference is explained by the fact that the law course has been changed since last year from two to three years in length.
The exercises began with the annual address by the class president, William Lincoln Hart. After Mr. Hart's speech an appropriate poem was read by the class poet, Albert Kocourck. The class history was the next feature of the programme, and Henry Nepht Hayes, the class historian, did exceedingly well with it, bringing out many humorous incidents. This was followed by the class prophecy by Max Wellinton Babh and the valedictory by Emmett Chauncey Ryan.

Monday evening the senior promenade took place. The various walks of the campus were festooned with strings of Chinese and Japanese lanterns. Several bands played popular music until a late hour. All the various fraternity houses were brilliantly lighted from top to bottom with electric lights and fantastic lanterns. Several of the different "frats" held house parties after the excitement on the campus had quieted.

STUDENTS WERE THE THIEVES.

Robbed the Agricultural College Vault at Lansing, Mich.

Lansing, Mich., June 30.—The vault of the Agricultural college here was blown open with dynamite April 6 and $2,300
in cash disappeared. A portion of this was funds belonging to the postoffice, in the same building. There were various theories and Detective Bates was confident that he had at one time located the burglars in Chicago. Postal Inspector Larimore and Detective Abels,
of this city, were confident that the job
was done by parties entirely familiar with the premises, and worked upon this theory.

The investigation resulted in fastening
the crime upon Clinton Butterfield, son of the secretary of the college, 19 years of age, and G. De Vere, son of Dr. Carroll E. Miller, a respected citizen of Cadillac, Mich., 20 years old. Both were students at the college, the former a senior and the latter a sophomore. They made a full confession, and admitted to bail to appear for trial in the United States district court. About $1,500 of the stolen money has been recovered,
and the balance made good by the parents of the boys.

WOUND MAY BE FATAL.

Fred Wilde Shoots Jerry Rioridan in an Encounter at Ironwood.

Ironwood, Mich., June 26.—Jerry Rioridan was perhaps fatally shot by Fred Wilde in Main street Thursday afternoon. The men are switchmen in the employ of the Chicago and Northwestern road, Wilde being night foreman.
Wednesday evening Wilde requested
Rioridan to work a few hours overtime,
but Rioridan refused and was reported to headquarters. Thursday morning an order came for Rioridan's discharge.
When Rioridan heard of this he made threats against Wilde and a switchman
who overheard them told the foreman
he had better arm himself, as he was in danger. Wilde procured a revolver and put it in his coat pocket.

After dinner Wilde was passing down
the street to work when he was assaulted by Rioridan, who struck him several times, finally knocking him off the walk.
Wilde then drew his revolver and shot his antagonist. The bullet entered directly under the heart. Wilde immediately gave himself up and Rioridan
was taken to a hospital.

Michigan Banker Found Guilty.

Ludington, Mich., June 26.—A verdict of guilty was reached late last night in the Chester W. Comstock embezzlement case, which was transferred from Big Rapids here. This case is the first of three against the manager and president of the defunct Mecosta County Savings bank. Comstock was accused of violating the state banking law by borrowing himself a large amount of the funds belonging to the bank; also lending money indiscriminately to the directors and stockholders.

Woman Arrested for Election Crookedness.

Lansing, Mich., June 28.—Gertrude Allen, who figured conspicuously here
a few years ago in a sensational forgery case, was arrested here Saturday on a fugitive warrant as the result of an indictment at Denver, Colo., for forging election returns at the April municipal election while officiating as one of the judges. She declares her innocence, gave bail to appear when wanted, and telegraphed the authorities that she would return at her own expense.

Socialists Denounce Debs' Scheme.

Detroit, June 29.—About 200 Detroit
socialists met Sunday and denounced Eugene V. Debs' movement for an independent community in Washington.
The scheme was characterized by all the speakers as the old communistic theory and impossible of achievement.

Railway Unions Hold a Meeting.

Marquette, Mich., June 28.—A union meeting of the railroad orders of the upper peninsula was held here in the Opera House Saturday night. Delegations of railroad men from Ishpeming, Escanaba, Negaunee, Green Bay and West Superior, besides several hundred local members of the orders, were present to hear addresses from the grand or-ficers, including P. M. Arthur, grand chief of the locomotive engineers. The addresses were on the scope, aims and objects of the orders with a view to giving the general public a better idea of the purposes of the organizations.

Seventh Day Adventists to Fast.

Lansing, Mich., June 28.—The numerous Seventh Day Adventists residing here
as well as those living elsewhere in this and other states have received notices
from the elders of the church that a week of self-denial will commence July 1.
These people denied themselves all luxuries and lived on a meagre diet for a week, thus raising $500 for the starving people of India. The general conference committee has ordered the coming week of self-denial for all Adventists in the country, and it hoped thereby to raise $50,000 for the extension of missions in Australia and Mexico.

Water-Logged Schooner Picked Up.

Menominee, Mich., June 28.—Waterlogged and with her crew and captain in the rigging for shelter, the schooner
Elizabeth was picked up Sunday in Green bay floating helpless. She was discovered by the tug North Muskegon and brought into this port. The cargo consisted of cordwood from Two Rivers,
which alone kept the boat from sinking.
The captain and the men were driven
from the deckload by the rising water,
and after putting up distress signals,
perched in the shrouds.

General George W. Harrington Dead.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 26.—General
George W. Harrington died here Thursday night, aged 69. He was born in Waterloo, N. Y. He fought in the civil war, was a Libby prison prisoner, and was made a general after the battle of Gettysburg. General Harrington was prominent in G. A. R. circles; was once exalted ruler and treasurer of the Elks, under whose auspices the funeral will be held on next Sunday.

President Angell Says Farewell.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 28.—President
Angell last night delivered his last public address before departing for his new post at Constantinople. It was the baccalaurate sermon to the graduating class of the University of Michigan. Dr.
Angell's subject was "Ambitions and Ideals," and University Hall was packed with a large and appreciative audience
of students and citizens.

Celebrated Midsummer Day.

Menominee, Mich., June 29.—Midsummer day was celebrated Sunday afternoon by the Sons of North. Twelve Scandinavian societies took part in the parade, the features of which were several floats with persons dressed in Scandinavian national costumes. The exercises took place at Riverside park.

Killed by a Falling Scaffold.

Stephenson, Mich., June 28.—A scaffolding, upon which E. B. Vincent and Los Dumoulin, shinglers, were at work, broke and both men were precipitated to the ground. Vincent was instantly killed and Dumoulin probably fatally injured. He has rich relatives in Illinois.

was instantly killed by the cars.

Mrs. Zella Howes, of Mendon, Mich.,

TO COUNT THE CASH.

Important Preliminary to the Change in United States Treasurers.

Washington, June 29.—Ellis H. Roberts of New York will become treasurer of the United States on July 1. Secretary Gage has appointed a commission to examine the books of the present treasurer, D. N. Morgan of Connecticut, and to count the money in the vaults. This is an enormous undertaking, and will employ about 100 persons, including expert counters and their assistants, for about three months. Most of this time will be taken in counting
the vast stores of silver.

It is estimated that the paper money can be counted in about two weeks, and that it will take nearly two months and a half to count the silver. Mr. Morgan's bondsmen will not be released until the count is concluded and all the moneys
and bonds in his charge have been fully accounted for. Though Mr. Morgan received from his predecessor about $700, 000,000, he will deliver to Mr. Roberts about $600,000,000 more than that sum.

Will Go to Canton Friday.

Washington, June 30.—The president has definitely decided to go to his old home at Canton, O., on Friday to visit his mother for a few days. Mrs. McKinley, Miss Mabel McKinley, and probably Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs.
Day will accompany him. They will leave here on the regular train over the Pennsylvania railroad Friday evening at 7:10, arrive in Canton at 10:30 Saturday morning. They will remain over the fourth and return Monday or Tuesday evening. On Thursday night the president will give an informal dinner
to the members of the cabinet and their wives.

Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

AFTER suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 25 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and Nervine. Within a week I commenced improving, and persisting in the treatment I was soon able to eat what I liked, with no evil effects. I keep them at hand and a single dose dispels any old symptoms."

ZENAS THE LAWYER.

REV. DR. TALMAGE PAYS A HIGH TRIBUTE TO THE BAR.

He Treats the Profession of Law From a Moral and Religious Standpoint—Duties of the Christian Lawyer—Many Temptations.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Dr. Talmage's sermon today has a special interest for lawyers, and all who expect to be lawyers, and all who are the friends of lawyers. His text is Titus III, 13, "Bring Zenas the lawyer."

The profession of the law is here introduced, and within two days in the Capital City 305 young men joined it, and at this season in various parts of the land other hundreds are taking their diplomas for that illustrious profession, and it is not appropriate that I address such young men from a moral and religious standpoint, as upon them are now rolling the responsibilities of that calling represented in the text by Zenas the lawyer.

We all admire the heroic and rigorous side of Paul's nature, as when he stands coolly deliberate on the deck of the cornship while the jack tars of the Mediterranean are covering in the cyclone; as when he stands undaunted amid the marbles of the palace before thick necked Nero, surrounded with his 12 cruel henchmen; as when we find him earning his livelihood with his own needle, sewing haircloth and preaching the gospel in the interstices; as when we find him able to take the 39 lashes, every stroke of which fethed the blood, yet continuing in his missionary work; as when we find him, regardless of the consequence to himself, delivering a temperance lecture to Felix, the government inebriate. But sometimes we catch a glimpse of the mild and genial side of Paul's nature. It seems that he had a friend who was a barrister by profession. His name was Zenas, and he wanted to see him. Perhaps he had formed the acquaintance of this lawyer in the courtroom. Perhaps sometimes when he wanted to ask some question in regard to Roman law he went to this Zenas the lawyer. At any rate he had a warm attachment for the man, and he provides for his comfortable escort and entertainment as he writes to Titus, "Bring Zenas the lawyer."

This man of my text belonged to a profession in which are many ardent supporters of Christ and the gospel, among them Blackstone, the great commentator on English law, and Willerforce, the emancipator, and the late Benjamin F. Butler, attorney general of New York, and the late Charles Chauncy, the leader of the Philadelphia bar, and Chief Justices Marshall and Taney, and Campbell and Sir Thomas More, who died for the truth on the scaffold, saying to his agonized executioner: "Pluck up courage, man, and do your duty. My neck is very short. Be careful, therefore, and do not strike away."

A Mighty Plea.

Among the mightiest pleas that ever have been made by tongue of barrister have been pleas in behalf of the Bible and Christianity, as when Daniel Webster stood in the supreme court at Washington pleading in the famous Girard will case, denouncing any attempt to educate the people without giving them at the same time moral sentiment as "low, ribald and vulgar delusion and infidelity," as when Samuel L. Southard of New Jersey, the leader of the forum in his day, stood on the platform at Princeton college commencement advocating the literary excellence of the Scriptures; as when Edmund Burke, in the famous trial of Warren Hastings, not only in behalf of the English government, but in behalf of elevated morals, closed his speech in the midst of the most august assemblage ever gathered in Westminster hall by saying: "I impeach Warren Hastings in the name of the house of commons, whose national character he has dishonored; I impeach him in the name of the people of India, whose rights and liberties he has subverted; I impeach him in the name of human nature, which he has disgraced. In the name of both sexes, and of every rank, and of every station, and of every situation in the world, I impeach Warren Hastings."

Yet, notwithstanding all the pleas which that profession has made in behalf of God, and the church, and the gospel, and the rights of man, there has come down through the generations among many people an absurd and wicked prejudice against it. So long ago as in the time of Oliver Cromwell it was decided that lawyers might not enter the parliament house as members, and they were called "sons of Zerah." The learned Dr. Johnson wrote an epitaph for one of them in these words:

God works wonders now and then.

Here lies a lawyer, an honest man!

Two hundred years ago a treatise was issued with the title, "Doomsday Approaching With Thunder and Lightning For Lawyers." A prominent clergyman of the last century wrote in regard to that profession these words: "There is a society of men among us bred up from their youth in the art of proving, according as they are paid, by words multiplied for the purpose that white is black and black is white. For example, if my neighbor has a mind to my cow, he hires a lawyer to prove that he ought to have my cow from me. I must hire another lawyer to defend my right, it being against all rules of law that a man should speak for himself. In pleading they do not dwell upon the merits of the cause, but upon circumstances foreign thereto. For instance, they do not take the shortest method to know what title my adversary has to my cow, but whether the cow be red or black, her horns long or short, or the like. After that they adjourn the cause from time to time and in 20 years they come to an issue. This society likewise has a peculiar cant or jargon of their own, in which all their laws are written, and these they take especial care to multiply, whereby they have so confounded truth and falsehood that it will take 12 years by my ancestors for six generations belongs to me or to one 39th miles off."

I say these things to show you that there has been a prejudice going on down against that profession from generation to generation. I account for it on the ground that they compel men to pay debts that they do not want to pay, and that they arraign criminals who want to escape the consequences of their crime, and as long as that is so, and it always will be so, just so long there will be classes of men who will affect at any rate to despise the legal profession. I know not how it is in other countries, but I have had long and wide acquaintance with men of that profession—I have found them in all my parishes. I tarried in one of their offices for three years, where there came real estate lawyers, insurance lawyers, criminal lawyers, marine lawyers—and I have yet to find a class of men more genial or more straight forward. There are in that occupation, as in all our occupations, men utterly obnoxious to God and man. But if I were on trial for my integrity or my life, and I wanted even handed justice administered to me, I would rather have my case submitted to a jury of 12 lawyers than to a jury of 12 clergymen. The legal profession, I believe, has less violence of prejudice than is to be found in the sacred calling.

Temptations.

There is, however, no man who has more temptations or graver responsibilities than the barrister, and he who attempts to discharge the duties of his position with only earthly resources is making a very great mistake. Witness the scores of men who have in that profession made eternal shipwreck. Witness the men who, with the law of the land under their arm, have violated every statute of the eternal God. Witness the men who have argued plausibly before earthly tribunals, who shall shiver in dismay before the Judge of quick and dead. Witness Lord Thurlow, announcing his loyalty to earthly government in the sentence, "If I forget my earthly sovereign, may God forget me," and yet stooping to unaccountable meanness. Witness Lord Coke, the learned and the reckless. Witness Sir George McKenzie, the exorciser of all Scotch Covenanters, so that until this day, in Gray Friars' churchyard, Edinburgh, the children whistle through the bars of the tomb, crying:

Bloody McKenzie, come out if you daur.

Lift the sneek and draw the bar.

No other profession more needs the grace of God to deliver them in their temptations, to comfort them in their trials, to sustain them in the discharge of their duty. While I would have you bring the merchant to Christ, and while I would have you bring the farmer to Christ, and while I would have you bring the mechanic to Christ, I address you now in the words of Paul to Titus, "Bring Zenas the lawyer." By so much as his duties are delicate and great, by so much does he need Christian stimulus and safeguard. We all become clients. I do not suppose there is a man 50 years of age who has been in active life who has not been afflicted with a lawsuit. Your name is assaulted, and you must have legal protection. Your boundary line is invaded, and the courts must re-establish it. Your patent is infringed upon, and you must make the offending manufacturer pay the penalty. Your treasures are taken, and the thief must be apprehended. You want to make your will, and you do not want to follow the example of those who, for the sake of saving $100 from an attorney, imperil $250,000, and keep the generation following for 20 years quarreling about the estate, until it is all exhausted. You are struck at by an assassin, and you must invoke for him the penitentiary. All classes of persons in course of time become clients, and therefore they are all interested in the morality and the Christian integrity of the legal profession. "Bring Zenas the lawyer."

Treatment of Clients.

But how is an attorney to decide as to what are the principles by which he should conduct himself in regard to his clients? On one extreme Lord Brougham will appear, saying: "The innocence or guilt of your client is nothing to you. You are to save your client regardless of the torment, the suffering, the destruction of all others. You are to know but one man in the world—your client. You are to save him though you should bring your country into confusion. At all hazards you must save your client." So says Lord Brougham. But no right minded lawyer could adopt that sentiment. On the other extreme Cleero will come to you and say, "You must never plead the cause of a bad man," forgetful of the fact that the greatest villain on earth ought to have a fair trial and that an attorney cannot be judge and advocate at the same time. It was grand when Lord Erskine sacrificed his attorney generalship for the sake of defending Thomas Paine in his publication of his book called "The Rights of Man," while at the same time he, the advocate, abhorred Thomas Paine's irreligious sentiments. Between these two opposite theories of what is right, what shall the attorney do? God alone can direct him. To that chancery he must be appellant, and he will get an answer in an hour. Blessed is that attorney between whose office and the throne of God there is perpetual, reverential and prayerful communication. That attorney will never make an irreparable mistake. True to the habits of your profession, you say, "Cite us some authority on the subject." Well, I quote to you the decision of the supreme court of heaven, "If any lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given him."

What a scene is the office of a busy attorney! In addition to the men who come to you from right motives, had men will come to you. They will offer you a large fee for counsel in the wrong direction. They want to know from you how they can escape from solemn marital obligation. They come to you wanting to know how they can fall advantageously for themselves. They come to you wanting to know how they can make the insurance company pay for a destroyed house which they burned down with their own hands, or they come to you on the simple errand of wanting to escape payment of their honest debts.

Now, it is no easy thing to advise settlement, when by urging litigation you could strike a mine of remuneration. It is not a very easy thing to dampen the ardor of an inflamed contestant, when you know through a prolonged lawsuit you could get from him whatever you asked. It is no easy thing to attempt to discourage the suit for the breaking of a will in the surrogate's court because you know the testator was of sound mind and body when he signed the document. It requires no small heroism to do as I once heard an attorney do in an office in a western city. I overheard the conversation when he said, "John, you can go on with this lawsuit, and I will see you through as well as I can, but I want to tell you before you start that a lawsuit is equal to a fire." Under the tremendous temptations that come upon the legal profession there are scores of men who have gone down, and some of them from being the pride of the highest tribunal of the state have become a disgrace to the Tombs courtroom. Every attorney, in addition to the innate sense of right, wants the sustaining power of the old fashioned religion of Jesus Christ. "Bring Zenas the lawyer."

Skepticism.

There are two or three forms of temptation to which the legal profession is especially subject. The first of all is skepticism. Controversy is the life-time business of that occupation. Controversy may be incidental or accidental with us, but with you it is perpetual. You get so used to pushing the sharp question "Why?" and making unaided reason superior to the emotions, that the religion of Jesus Christ, which is a simple matter of faith and love human reason, although not contrary to it, has but little chance with some of you. A brilliant orator wrote a book on the first page of which he announced this sentiment, "An honest God is the noblest work of man!" Skepticism is the mightiest temptation of the legal profession, and that man who can stand in that profession, resisting all solicitations to infidelity, and can be as brave as George Briggs of Massachusetts, who stepped from the gilded armchair to the missionary convention, to plead the cause of a dying race; then on his way home from the convention, on a cold day, took off his warm cloak and threw it over the shoulders of a thinly clad missionary, saying, "Take that and wear it; it will do you more good than it will me," or, like Judge John McLean, who can step from the supreme court room of the United States on to the anniversary platform of the American Sunday School union, its most powerful orator, deserves congratulation and encomium. Oh, men of the legal profession, let me beg of you to quit asking questions in regard to religion and begin believing!

Sabbath Breaking.

Another mighty temptation for the legal profession is Sabbath breaking. The trial has been going on for 10 or 15 days. The evidence is all in. It is Saturday night. The judge's gavel falls on the desk, and he says, "Crier, adjourn the court until 10 o'clock Monday morning." On Monday morning the counselor is to sum up the case. Thousands of dollars, yes, the reputation and life of his client may depend upon the success of his plea. How will he spend the intervening Sunday? There is not one lawyer out of a hundred that can withstand the temptation to break the Lord's day under such circumstances, and yet if he does he hurts his own soul. What, my brother, you cannot do before 12 o'clock Saturday night or after 12 o'clock Sunday night God does not want you to do at all. Besides that, you want the 24 hours of Sabbath rest to give you that electrical and magnetic force which will be worth more to you before the jury than all the elaboration of your case on the sacred day. My intimate and lamented friend, the late Judge Neilson, in his interesting reminiscences of Rufus Choate, says that during the last case that gentleman tried in New York the court adjourned from Friday until Monday on account of the illness of Mr. Choate. But the chronicler says that on the intervening Sabbath he saw Mr. Choate in the old Brick church listening to the Rev. Dr. Gardiner Springer. I do not know whether on the following day Rufus Choate won his cause or lost it, but I do know that his Sabbath rest did not do him any harm. Every lawyer is entitled to one day's rest out of seven. If he surrenders that, he robs three—God, his own soul and his client. Lord Castlereagh and Sir Thomas Romilly were the leaders of the bar in their day. They both died suicides. Willerforce accounts for their aberration of intellect on the ground that they were intermittent in their work and they never rested on Sunday. "Poor fellow!" said Willerforce in regard to Castlereagh; "poor fellow, it was nonobservance of the Sabbath." Chief Justice Hale says, "When I do not properly keep the Lord's day, all the rest of the week is unhappy and unsuccessful in my worldly employment."

I quote today from the highest statute book in the universe, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." The legal gentleman who breaks that statute may seem for awhile to be advantaged, but in the long run the men who observe this law of God will have larger retainers, vaster influence, greater professional success than those men who break the statute. Observance of the law of God pays not only spiritually and eternally, but it pays in hard dollars and bank bills.

Another powerful temptation of the legal profession is to artificial stimulus. No one except those who have addressed audiences knows about the nervous exhaustion that sometimes comes afterward. The temptation to strong drink approaches the legal profession at that very point. Then, a trial is coming on. Through the ill ventilated courtroom the barrister's health has been depressed for days and for weeks. He wants to rally his energy. He is tempted to resort to artificial stimulus. It is either to get himself up or let himself down that this temptation comes upon him. The flower of the American bar, ruined in reputation and ruined in estate, said in his last moments: "This is the end. I am dying on a borrowed bed, covered with a borrowed sheet, in a house built by public charity. Bury me under that tree in the middle of the field, that I may not be crowded. I always have been crowded."

The Great Future.

Another powerful temptation of the legal profession is to allow the absorbing duties of the profession to shut out thoughts of the great future. You know very well that you have often tried others well that after awhile be put on trial yourselves. Death will serve on you a writ of ejectment, and you will be put off these earthly premises. On that day all the affairs of your life will be presented in a "bill of particulars." No certiorari from a higher court, for this is the highest court. The day when Lord Exeter was tried for high treason; the day when the house of commons moved for the impeachment of Lord Lovat; the days when Charles I and Queen Caroline were put upon trial; the day when Robert Emmet was arraigned as an insurgent; the day when Blennerhasset was brought into the courtroom because he had tried to overthrow the United States government, and all the other great trials of the world are nothing compared with the great trial in which you and I shall appear, summoned before the Judge of quick and dead.

There will be no pleading there "the statute of limitations," no "turning state's evidence," trying to get off ourselves while others suffer, no "moving for a non-suit." The case will come on inexorably, and we shall be tried. You, my brother, who have so often been advocate for others, will then need an advocate for yourself. Have you selected him, the Lord Chancellor of the Universe? If any man sin, we have an advocate—Jesus Christ the righteous. It is uncertain when your case will be called on. "Is ye already?" Lord Ashburton and Mr. Wallace were leading barristers in their day. They died about the same time. A few months before their decease they happened to be in the same hotel in a village, the one coming to London, the other going to London. They had both been seized upon by a disease which they knew would be fatal, and they requested that they be carried into the same room and laid down on sofas side by side that they might talk over old times and talk over the future. So they were carried in, and lying there on opposite sofas they talked over their old contests at the bar, and then they talked of the future world, upon which they must soon enter. It was said to have been a very affecting and solemn interview between Mr. Wallace and Lord Ashburton. My subject today puts you side by side with those men in your profession who have departed this life, some of them skeptical and rebellious, some of them penitent, childlike and Christian. Those were wandering stars for whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever, while these others went up from the courtroom of earth to the throne of eternal dominion. Through Christ the advocate these got glorious acquittal. In the other case it was a hopeless lawsuit—an unpardoned sinner versus the Lord God Almighty. Oh, what disastrous litigation! Behold, he comes! The Judge, the Judge, the clouds of heaven, the judicial ermine, the great white throne, the judicial bench, the archangel's voice that shall wake the dead, the crier, "Come, ye blessed; depart ye cursed!" the acquittal or the condemnation. "And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God, and the books were opened."

THE WORK IN CONGRESS.

Synopsis of the Proceedings of the National Lawmakers.

Washington, June 28.—The senate started Saturday on its second passage through the tariff bill, the purpose being to dispose of all items previously passed over. The paragraphs considered were in the chemical and earthenware schedule, and failed to elicit more than technical debate. But an abrupt and startling halt in the debate occurred at 2:30 o'clock when, in the midst of a passionate speech, Pettigrew of South Dakota was stricken with paralysis of the vocal chord which brought his vehement speech to a close with a sentence half uttered. The senator was not physically incapacitated except in the sudden loss of the power of speech. Although he took his seat unaided his associates felt that grave possibilities were involved in such an attack. They were quickly by his side as he was ministered to with a little confusion as possible. He left the chamber soon after and was taken home by his friends.

Washington, June 29.—The Senate made good progress on the tariff bill yesterday, disposing of the paragraphs relating to hides, which have been the source of much controversy. As finally agreed on the duty on hides is placed at 20 per cent ad valorem, in place of 15 cents per pound, as originally reported by the finance committee. The discussion was protracted, drifting into a general debate on trusts, and from that back to the sugar trust. Smith of New Jersey spoke at length against the duty on hides, while Allen of Nebraska supported the duty. The new paragraph was agreed to—39 to 20—one democrat, Rawlins of Utah and several Populists and silver Republicans voting with the Republicans in the affirmative.

The session of the house yesterday lasted only long enough to call the roll on Dingley's motion to adjourn, Dingley saying he was not aware of any matters claiming the attention of the house. Bailey challenged that statement with the observation that the bankruptcy bill and the Cuban belligerency resolution were unacted upon. A rising vote was against adjournment by a majority of one, whereupon Dingley demanded the ayes and nays and won—97 to 88. July 10 was set apart for eulogies on the late W. S. Holman.

Washington, June 30.—The senate yesterday completed the paragraphs of the tariff bill relating to lead ore, the duty being fixed at 15 cents a pound. Tillman offered an amendment to tax immigrants $100 apiece on landing—rejected, only three voting for it. Several hundred pension bills, mostly private, were reported. Pettigrew was in his seat again.

ENDEAVOR TRAINS IN COLLISION.

Two of Them Reported Wrecked, but the Number of Fatalities Uncertain.

West Chicago, June 30.—An awful rear-end collision occurred here at 12:45 this morning. Section No. 5 of the Christian Endeavor excursion to San Francisco ran into section No. 4. Three were killed and fifteen seriously hurt. Courtney, engineer of section No. 5, was fatally injured. Limbs and flesh of unknown people are continuously being taken from the wreck. A man was caught between the baggage cars and engine and crushed to death.

St. Louis, June 30.—Train No. 6, leaving here at 10:30 p. m. on the Vandallia road and train No. 11, due from Indianapolis at 1:45 a. m. collided just outside of Vandallia yesterday morning. One of the trains was a section of a regular passenger train carrying a party of excursionists on their way to the Christian Endeavor convention at San Francisco. R. T. Sherman, of Indianapolis, mail clerk on the St. Louis train, was killed; also W. P. Coon, of Indianapolis, baggage-master of train No. 11, west-bound. Sam Parkinson, mail clerk, of Columbus, and Frank Owens, fireman, of Terre Haute, were fatally injured.

None of the passengers is reported killed or injured.

Jack the Ripper in Japan.

Tokyo, Japan, via San Francisco, June 29.—An imitator of Jack the Ripper has slain several young women recently in Tokyo. The murders, which were four in number, all occurred the first part of May, and so great was the excitement in Tokyo that what might be called a wave of suicidal hysteria set in, and several young women killed themselves out of sheer fear of the murderer. The women slain by the Japanese murderer were in every case of good character.

Gardiner Breaks a World's Record.

Springfield, Ill., June 30.—Arthur Gardiner, of Chicago, yesterday, at the bicycle meet held at the state fair grounds, broke the world's one-mile handicap record. There were eighteen starters in the race, Gardiner, Mertens and Will Coburn being the scratch men. Unfortunately Kiser and Cooper were not entered. Gardiner won the race, his time being 2:05 1-5. The world's previous record was 2:05 3-5, made by Mertens this year.

Cold Beverages are Injurious in Hot Weather.

"A word should, perhaps, be said as to the unwholesomeness of the extremely cold water, tea, lemonade and other liquids, which are so extensively used throughout the United States," writes Mrs. S. T. Rorer in the July Ladies' Home Journal. The cold drinks reduce the temperature of the stomach, thereby checking digestion, and for this reason should be avoided during or immediately after meals. It cannot be denied that one may become a toper on non-intoxicants, and that it is very easy to create a strong desire for frequent draughts of any pleasant, cold drink. Where perspiration flows freely the effect is less serious, but in most cases the free use of cold draughts disturbs the stomach, and it would be much better if they were entirely given up. Teach your little ones, as well as yourself, to be satisfied with water at a temperature of fifty degrees, and to limit the amount of sweet drinks taken. In the evening, and possibly between meals, one might indulge now and then in a glass of lemonade, orangeade or currant punch. For a tennis-party the various mixtures like Oriental punches will appease the thirst, and chocolate served at luncheon is certainly an agreeable food, as well as a pleasant drink. Coffee frappé comes under the same head."

Hot Drinks For Thirst.

It is a mistake to suppose that cold drinks are necessary to relieve thirst. Very cold drinks, as a rule, increase the feverish condition of the mouth and stomach, and so create thirst. Experience shows it to be a fact that hot drinks relieve the thirst and "cool off" the body when it is in an abnormally heated condition better than ice-cold drinks. It is far better and safer to avoid the use of drinks below sixty degrees. In fact, a higher temperature is to be preferred, and those who are much troubled with thirst will do well to try the advantages to be derived from hot drinks, instead of cold fluids to which they have been accustomed. Hot drinks also have the advantage of aiding digestion, instead of causing debility of the stomach and bowels.—N. Y. Ledger.
